Chickens Smarter Than Turkeys

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Turkeys lay their eggs standing up. Chickens, who are smarter, squat.
The result: 20 to 30 per cent of eggs laid in a given turkey flock are cracked or badly damaged by the fall. Chickens don't have that problem.
Michigan State University
poultry experts have designed a shock-absorbing rubber "carpet" to reduce the egg casualties and improve the turkey birth rate.
"The average drop is about 10 inches," Richard I. Divilbiss, MSU's agricultural research editor said Monday. "There's a

Congress and Nixon Head for Collision

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and the Democratic Congress are heading into a collision course on a collision northwest will spread slowly to the northeast portion today while ending west this afternoon and northeast tonight.
Colder tonight, Wednesday considerable cloudiness and cold, low tonight mostly in the 20s.

Senate Republican Leader
Hugh Scott said as Congress adjourned last week until Jan. 19
he hoped a way would be discovered to a settlement acceptable to both Congress and the White House. But he said he had none in mind.
Congress delayed passage of the health-education appropriation at the end of the first session after Nixon made an 11th hour objection to its cost.
"There is an argument over where to put the priorities in our federal budget, but this certainly is one area where we cannot afford to be stingy," said
Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., a leading advocate of the increased health and education spending.

The priority argument is certain to be sounded again and again as the 91st Congress authorizes and appropriates money—particularly for the Pentagon.
President Nixon already has said the next defense budget will represent the smallest percentage of over-all federal spending proposals since World War II.

But that is not likely to satisfy many congressional Democrats.
Meanwhile, strategists on the Democratic National Committee are urging their party's congressional figures to step up criticism of the administration performance on inflation, crime and national priorities.

"The next three months will be critical for Democratic elected officials to answer the President's attacks and hold Republicans responsible for his ineffectual handling of these problems," said a memo prepared by the Democrats' campaign and research directors, Mark Shields and Peter D. Hart.

The disagreement over how much and where to spend blends into political debate over inflation and the blame for rising prices.

As always, the most inviting target for those who want to rearrange the budget will be the biggest—defense spending.

Senate Democratic Leader
Mike Mansfield has said repeatedly the marathon 1969 debate over the Safeguard antiballistic missile system was only a preview of the kind of scrutiny defense programs will face in future sessions.

Industrial Activities

VINCENT FOSTER

In a program arranged by James Norrow, chairman, Hope Lions heard a report on the activities of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation at the noon luncheon at Town & Country.

Vincent Foster, president of the industrial promotion group went back to the earliest efforts to bring industry to Hope, explaining the financing plans of Amendment 49 and Act 9.

Among the industries building or expanding in recent years include Mountaire Feed Mill, Meyers Bakery, Hope Eggland,

Standard Generator, Hope Wire
Products and Homestead Industries.

Most of these companies have used eight Amendment 49 or Act 9 to aid their building program.
Standard Generator is planning further expansion and the issue under Act 9 will be voted on February 3, 1970.

While not yet free to name prospects Mr. Foster indicated several excellent prospects are considering this area.

TAX REFORM (from page one)

July, when the law's provisions raising the personal exemption and the minimum standard deduction first take effect, and the law expires entirely.

But the law is so new that IRS hasn't had time to work out the bulky tables it needs to say how much any particular taxpayer will take home then.

But an IRS expert did figure the changes in withholding for three average families with yearly income of $5,000, $10,000 and $15,000, paid weekly. In each case he assumed the family consists of a man, his non-working wife and their two children and that they take the minimum deduction of $600 each.

Because of "a mathematical quirk" in the complex formulas, IRS said, the man with a $5,000 salary, paid at $96.15 a week will have $6.10 in taxes taken out instead of the $5.70 deducted during 1969.

Added to this is $4.62 a week in Social Security taxes, but because his salary is below the $7,800 cutoff point, he paid that all year and there will be no change.

He will take home $85.43 instead of $85.83 but will be able to recover the extra 40 cents a week when he files for a refund at the end of the year.

If the man's yearly income is $10,000, his tax will drop to $23 a week from $23.70. He hasn't paid Social Security taxes for a couple of months, however, so he will have an additional $9.23 deducted, for a total of $32.23, and will take home $160.08 of his $192.31 weekly salary.

When income rises to $15,000
the difference is slightly more pronounced. Income tax will take a bite of $41 from the $288.46 weekly salary instead of $42.70 this year. Add to that, however, $13.85 for Social Security—not paid since summer—and takehome pay comes to $233.61.

None of the figures includes salary increases for extra deductions such as those for insurance, retirement plans or union dues.

Actions of American Party Don't Figure

LITTLE ROCK (AP) —
Charles D. Matthews of North Little Rock, chairman of the Democratic party, said Monday that actions of the American Party of Arkansas didn't figure into the Democrats' plans.

"I just haven't considered them in any of our plans and I just don't have any observation on what they do," Matthews said.

But House Speaker Hayes C.
McClerkin of Texarkana, a likely candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination next year, said disension in the APA would strengthen the Democratic party.

McClerkin said that up until now the voters "have feared the party and its strength."

"Its internal difficulties certainly are going to be helpful to the Democratic party," he said.

A rift in the APA widened
Saturday when Chairman
Walter Carruth of Lexa tried and failed to remove Jim Johnson as the party's national committeeman.

Odell Pollard of Search, chairman of the state Republican party, said "dissension and dis-organization" in the APA indicated that it was "falling to deal with the responsibilities of a political party."

Pollard said failure to meet responsibilities occurs in a political party when a "leader lacks the foresight to broaden the party's base."

He said Johnson "obviously does not want anyone else to threaten his position of power."

On Monday Nixon signed a stack of bills involving billions of dollars. These included a $4.8 billion housing bill; $2.5 billion for the State, Justice and Commerce departments and federal judiciary, $6.6 billion for the Department of Transportation;
$1.36 billion for military construction and the $287 million supplemental appropriation measure which includes a program to make more construction industry jobs available to Negroes.

The action came as Nixon moved to clear his desk of all important business before leaving for California. He plans to stay at his San Clemente home until at least Jan. 5.

Nixon also had indicated he might veto the coal mine safety bill because of a possible inflationary effect of some of the benefits it would provide.

But word that Nixon would sign the safety bill came Monday as a delegation of miners' widows was visiting the White House. The women, whose husbands died in a mine explosion at Farmington, W. Va., in 1968, went to the executive mansion to plead for Nixon's signature on the bill which would give federal payments to miners disabled by "black lung disease."
The measure also tightens fed-

Submerging Rescue Vehicle
from $36 million for 12 to $463 million for six is fantastic. He said the Navy should only need one or two. There have only been two deep sea submarine emergencies in 40 years, he said.

Keller's staff blamed the overrun largely on failure to foresee development problems and said the Navy is considering cutting the program to two of the submarine-like diving craft at a cost of $250 million.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell had been scheduled to testify today on whether a cost analyst had been intimidated by the Air Force before disclosing a $2 billion overrun in the C-5A supercargo plane to Proxmire's subcommittee.

But Mitchell cancelled the appearance on grounds the Justice Department investigation requested by Proxmire has not been completed.

The cost analyst, A. E. Fitzgerald, has since lost his job in what the Air Force called an economy move. Proxmire said Mitchell's appearance will be rescheduled but it will come too late to help Fitzgerald who leaves the Air Force post Jan.

leftists demonstrated, three objects exploded like firecrackers
—one on the roof of the vice president's car—and a rock whistled past the car.

Police said the explosives were "Molotov bombs," small glass bottles filled with gunpowder. Local papers said about 10 persons were injured, either by glass splinters or by the police clubs that scattered the crowd.

Two students at the University of the Philippines were charged today with assault and illegal possession of explosives in connection with the demonstration. Police said they seized several small bottles filled with an explosive powder and with fuses attached.

Marcos, the first Philippine president to win a second term, called on Asia in his inaugural address to "forge a constructive unity and coexist in purposeful peace, not on terms that must yet be drawn by a conquering ideology, but on bonds that now exist."

Turning to the problems of his impoverished nation of 37 million people, he called on the wealthy to "share the burden with the grace and courage of the poor. Let them find common cause with the people."

In a phrase reminiscent of the late President John F. Kennedy, he said: "So seek not from government what you cannot find in yourself." He added that "The presidency will set the example of this official morality and oblige others to follow."

New England Again Hit by Bad Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More inclement weather was expected to hit New England late today or tonight, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau at Boston. But the bureau said residents need not fear a repeat of the post-Christmas storm that left many areas still in trouble today.

A four-day storm that began late Christmas Day and continued through Sunday left some 60 inches of new snow in parts of Vermont and up to 50 inches in sections of central and western Massachusetts.

Snowmobiles were being pressed into service in New England for food and medical deliveries and other emergencies.

Dairy farmers in Vermont were especially hard hit. Some in the Newbury area said they were dumping their milk because tankers couldn't pick it up. Others said they had to do milking by hand for the first time in years because of power failures.

The entire state of Vermont was declared a disaster area Sunday. The storm caused some flooding in coastal regions where it rained heavily.

A variety of precipitation fell across much of the rest of the nation during today's early hours.

Rain fell from Texas across the Tennessee valley and the Virginias to Delaware and New Jersey. Locally heavy amounts were recorded in some areas.

The normal price would be around $1. At one time the loaves dipped in price to three cents each.

What started the war?

Texas Pulls Big Upset on Ohio State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texas' stunning 73-65 upset of fifth-ranked Ohio University in the Hurricane Basketball Classic highlighted an evening of surprise showings by Southwest Conference teams in holiday tournaments Monday night.

Texas A&M knocked off Furman 66-66 in the Poinsettia Classic, and Rice whipped St. Francis in the All-College Tournament in Oklahoma City 59-52. In other games involving SWC teams, things were much sadder.

Louisville thrashed Southern Methodist 105-79 and Texas Christian was conked 89-80 by tough Ohio State.

Lanky 6-foot-6 Wayne Doyal, Lynn Howden and Eric Groscurth paced the Longhorns over previously unbeaten Ohio University.

Doyal and Groscurth each scored 16 points and Howden hit for 15.

Texas had lost four of its last five games going into the tournament and brought its record to 5-4 for the year.

Ohio had beaten such powers as Northwestern, Purdue, Ohio State and Indiana.

Seven-foot Steve Niles sank a layup with 12 seconds remaining to give A&M its win over Furman in the Greenville, S.C. tournament. A&M is now 4-4 for the year.

TCU gave the Buckeyes a good scrap at Fort Worth but a 51-point Ohio State surge in the second half was too much for the Horned Frogs. Ohio State is now 7-1 for the season and TCU is 4-6.

Gene Phillips' 25-point outburst wasn't enough for the Mustangs at Louisville. SMU is now 1-7 for the season.

SMU was ahead 30-28 when

Thinks It Will Be Fine Game at Houston

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Sports Writer HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A home field advantage for the Houston Cougars in Wednesday night's Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl game does not bother coach Ralph (Shug) Jordan of the Auburn Tigers.

"I think it is going to be one hell of a ball game," Jordan said. "I think they have a little advantage by playing at home but how much I don't know."

Coach Bill Yeoman's Cougars moved into the Astrodome in 1965 and have compiled a 20-3 record there since the synthetic turf was installed a year later.

Both Auburn and Houston hold 8-2 records. Auburn is a one-point favorite.

Yeoman said Houston is not as strong as the Auburn team he described as having excellent linebacking, excellent movement, and excellent technique.

"If we can keep from making mistakes, it'll be a real good game," Yeoman said.

Jordan said he was a bit concerned about the astroturf. The Tigers have played on synthetics only once before, against Tennessee but on a different material.

"On any kind of turf, even grass, you get some abrasions," he said. "I just hope we don't have as much as at Tennessee. One case eventually required surgery."

Jordan told Yeoman his Tigers set a collegiate record against Georgia by drawing four consecutive 15-yard penalties for roughing the kicker.

"Yes, and I didn't show that Georgia film to our punter," Yeoman replied.

A sellout crowd in excess of 53,000 is to see the 6:45 p.m. (CST) kickoff. The game is to be televised nationally with the Houston area blacked out.

Porkers Off Early for New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks flew from the cold climes of Arkansas to 70-degree weather in New Orleans Monday night in advance of their New Year's Day Sugar Bowl meeting with Ole Miss.

About 1,000 persons gathered at the Fort Smith airport in wet, windy, 33-degree weather Monday night to see the Razorbacks off. Coach Frank Broyles, before boarding the chartered jet that would take the team to New Orleans, said he was pleased with the turnout.

At New Orleans when they landed, the Razorbacks were greeted by balmy weather, a small Dixieland band and a handful of rooters.

About 40 players were aboard the jet. Other team members flew down in a second plane.

Big Problem Is Buying a Shirt

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The problems Mike McCoy, Notre Dame's monstrous defensive tackle, has with opposing line men are nothing compared with those he encounters when he tries to buy a shirt.

"The first thing the clerk asks me is 'What size?'" the All-American giant from Erie, Pa., said today. "When I say 19 1/2, the guy gulps and almost faints. 'I have to have my shirts specially made,'

McCoy is 6 feet, 5 inches tall and weighs 286 pounds. That's what he weighs after devouring a few full-sized turkeys over the holidays but he figures to be down to about 180 by the time the Irish square off against top-ranked Texas Thursday in the Cotton Bowl.

He wears a size 52 extra long suit and 15-D shoes. He has biceps that look like the thighs of a horse and wrists like wagon tongues.

"I don't have too much trouble buying suits off the rack," McCoy said. "But when I get a 52 suit I have to take trousers that are 46 inches in the waist. It's like putting on a tent. I have them cut down to 39."

McCoy is so big that he doesn't have to resort to subtlety in his encounters at the line of scrimmage. He follows the old Roosevelt Grier formula: "I just grab a handful of people and peel 'em off until I get to the man with the ball."

"I don't try to drive through the line, I just slide along it," McCoy said. "We have a pretty solid wall up there—nobody runs through us because there's no space to run."

McCoy is proud of Notre Dame's defensive record against the ground game, which will receive its severest test in the Cotton Bowl. Texas' running offense has averaged 363 yards a game—the nation's best—while Notre Dame has given up only 85.1 yards per game on the ground.

A 21-year-old senior, McCoy was a strong candidate for Heisman Trophy honors and is certain to be a top pick in the pro draft next month.

"I've thought about where I like to play and where I wouldn't," he said. "I wouldn't mind New York or California. Pittsburgh is near my home town and Cleveland also is in the area."

"There's one place I don't want to go—that's Chicago. I wouldn't want to wind up with the Bears. It's just that I don't like the city. You're confined there. There's no way to get away."

Tall Soph Is Dropped by Hog Cagers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Vernon Murphy, a 6-foot-5 sophomore, has been dropped from the Arkansas Razorback basketball team for disciplinary reasons, Coach Duddy Waller said Monday.

Murphy started the last five games for Arkansas and had a 12-point scoring average.

One of two Negroes on the team, he played in high school at Texarkana, Tex. Murphy set a freshman scoring record of 295 points last year and was named to the all-Southwest Conference freshman team.

"This is purely disciplinary action," Waller said. "Vernon is dropped from the squad for the remainder of the season."

Murphy declined comment.

Cotton Bowl Foes Both Confident

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — In the pressure-cooker of the historic 34th Cotton Bowl Classic Thursday, the coolest players on the field will be a Texas Catholic and a Notre Dame Protestant who have the knack of doing the right thing at the right time.

Quarterbacks Joe Theismann of the Fighting Irish and James Street of the No. 1 ranked Longhorns are the names and big time collegiate football is their game.

Theismann, a junior, is described by teammate Tom Caceres as the type of guy "who doesn't fold in the clutch."

Senior Street, who has reeled off 19 straight victories as Texas' starting quarterback, is called by Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian "A winner and a great competitor."

The 20-year-old, 6-foot Theismann almost didn't get a chance to play college ball because of his slight build and 170-pound weight.

"They really never thought I could play high school (South River, N.J.) ball because I was so frail," Theismann said.

"When I selected to go to Notre Dame everybody started saying roses in my hometown and I'm not even Catholic."

Theismann calls himself a "mediocre passer. I want to prove to everybody that I can throw the ball."

Gatewood, a split end, said "He's terrific. He doesn't get harassed and he doesn't get flustered. And he can get the ball away."

Texas coach Darrell Royal said "His statistics speak for themselves. He's a good runner, good thrower and just a good quarterback."

Theismann has a .562 passing completion percentage and had a total offense of 1,909 yards in 308 plays in directing the Irish to an 8-1-1 record and it's first bowl appearance in 45 years.

Parseghian said Street "has immense poise . . . a real clutch player. He can scramble, breaks tackles and is a better passer than most people think. He makes the big play."

The 5-foot-11, 175-pound Street had his finest hour in Texas' 15-14 victory over Arkansas. He scored on a 43-yard run, dashed across for the two-point, and nailed Randy Peschel with a 44-yard pass to set up the winning touchdown.

Street is slightly less than a .500 passer—going to the air only when the opposition gangs up on Texas' high-powered Wishbone-T.

"You saw what he did to Tennessee last year on those long bombs to Cotton Speyrer didn't you?" asked Parseghian. "And don't ever discount Street's passing."

The witty Street said he anticipates "Notre Dame will play a strong 8-man line against us, which they have played all year long. I'm a Catholic myself and I'm sure looking forward to playing all those Catholics on the Notre Dame team."

The big worry in both camps Monday was the weather which continued bad.

Royal said "It doesn't take an Einstein to figure out that

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Hamilton scored 23 points and five of his teammates also hit in double figures Monday night as the North Texas Eagles smashed Arkansas Tech 126-76 in basketball.

The victory gave the Eagles a 7-3 record and reduced that of the Wonder Boys to 9-6. Paul Brown led Tech with 29 points.

Weather Big Concern of Bowl Games

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Sports Writer NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Weather was the chief concern today for the Sugar Bowl and the opposing coaches, Arkansas' Frank Broyles and Mississippi's Johnny Vaughn.

Broyles' Razorbacks were forced out of Fayetteville, Ark., 12 hours early because of ice and snow. The team arrived here late Monday night.

Mississippi, a three-point underdog for the New Year's Day classic, was having its own problems with the weather at Oxford, Miss.

The Rebels had been scheduled to leave Oxford by chartered plane today at 8 a.m., arriving in New Orleans 90 minutes later. Instead, Vaughn will take his team by bus to Memphis, Tenn., about 80 miles away, and take a larger plane for New Orleans. It will push back Ole Miss' arrival here about three hours.

A fast-moving cold front brought rain to New Orleans early today and the weather conditions were expected to be wet and cold through late Wednesday night.

A weather bureau forecaster said late Monday night, however, "that it will apparently be a good day Thursday although it may be on the chilly side."

Arkansas' jet from Fort Smith, Ark., got here quicker than the cold front. Broyles stepped off the plane bundled up in an overcoat. He didn't need it. The temperature was near 70 and a warm wind was blowing.

"It was either this or drive 60 miles at 6 a.m. Tuesday to leave," Broyles said.

Third-ranked Arkansas, with a balanced offense and the nation's No. 1 defense against scoring, brings a 9-1 record into the Sugar Bowl. Mississippi, 7-3 and No. 13 in the final regular season poll, will be shooting for its fourth attention-getting victory.

The Rebels, whose offense evolves around do-everything quarterback Archie Manning, handed LSU and Tennessee their only losses of the season and defeated Georgia when the Bulldogs were unbeaten and nationally ranked.

While the Razorbacks and the Rebels were attempting to get into New Orleans, a feud was brewing between Gov. John McKeithen of Louisiana and the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association.

The association, which sponsors the Sugar Bowl, says the game will be blacked out on most of the state's television sets.

McKeithen, in a telegram to Dr. Fred J. Wolfe Jr., association president, said the policy was discriminatory and urged that it be rescinded.

The telecast was blacked out in New Orleans last year when Arkansas defeated Georgia 16-2.

McKeithen said the game was already sold out and that it had been sold out last year.

McKeithen said "many Sugar Bowl fans are unnecessarily penalized by your decision for bidding the ABC television network to make the telecast available to any Louisiana station other than the one in the North-western corner of the state (in Shreveport)."

"Certainly past attendance would justify reversal of what would appear to be discrimination against a great number of our citizens," McKeithen said.

Wolfe, who said he had not received the telegram, said the policy was established by the board more than a year ago.

"The board makes the policy," Wolfe said. "I don't."

Missouri Could Help the Big Eight

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer MIAMI (AP) — The Big Eight Conference can enhance its national reputation even more if Missouri ends second-ranked Penn State's unbeaten string at 29 straight in the Orange Bowl game Thursday night.

A Tiger victory — and Missouri is a three-point favorite — would give the Big Eight three bowl triumphs this season, with the others coming over South-eastern Conference foes.

Kentucky Is Still on Top of Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kentucky remains on top in the major college basketball rankings, with UCLA, the defending national champions, just a step away.

The Wildcats, who ran their record to 7-0 with a 102-100 squeaker over Notre Dame Saturday night, outpointed UCLA 480-470 in the balloting by sports writers and sports casters on The Associated Press panel.

Kentucky picked up 15 first place votes while UCLA, 6-0 after decisive triumphs over Louisiana State and Georgia Tech last week, got the remaining 10.

Kentucky was the runaway leader a week ago. The

Hockey Player Using a Good Luck Charm

DETROIT (AP) — Alex Delvecchio — the seventh highest goal scorer in National Hockey League history — is using a good luck charm from Miss America in trying to break a jinx and get his first goal of the season.

He put a piece of heather from Scotland in his skate a few weeks ago, but it didn't work.

The 38-year-old captain of the Detroit Red Wings leads the team this season in assists with 22 — but in 30 games he has not added to his career goal total of 375.

Pamela Eldred of Detroit, the reigning Miss America, lent the crown-shaped pin, which she wore in the Miss America Pageant in the fall, to the Red Wings.

A hockey fan, she donated the charm while a guest at an NHL game last Friday night.

Delvecchio wrapped protective gauze around the pin and put it in a suspender — part of the hockey player's bulky outfit — for Sunday's 5-3 victory over the Oakland.

No, he didn't score. But Delvecchio got five shots on goal, including three good chances that were his best in a few weeks.

Business Can Give Some Varied Answers

By DON BATTLE
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ask top business and consumer leaders what their 1970 New Year's resolutions are and one is liable to get some interesting answers.

"I guess I should resolve to sponsor round-table peace talks between automobile manufacturers and Ralph Nader," says Mrs. Virginia H. Knauer, chairman of President Nixon's Committee on Consumer Interests.

And from a spokesman for a major oil company, who asked not to be identified for obvious reasons:

"We resolve not to cancel the credit cards of all those congressmen who voted to cut the oil depletion allowance."

"We resolve to open a new type of 'super service station' this year which will offer cash giveaway games for each member of the family, triple green stamps, free drinking glasses, free place mats for the kitchen, balloons and bubble gum for the kids, modern deluxe restrooms, complete travel maps and the quickest service in town."

"Gee, that's great."

"Yes, but there's just one catch."

"What's that?"

"We don't have any room for gasoline pumps."

On a serious note, Dayton Clevell, senior vice president for research and engineering at Mobil Oil, has a resolution that involves cutting air pollution.

"I'd like to see the American motorist resolve to help us by keeping his car in the first-class working order and by driving it properly. A clean, well-tuned car properly driven, cuts air pollution to half of that of a dirty car."

"We recognize that it is the oil companies who must carry the brunt of this part of the air pollution battle," Clevell says.

"But if 90 million Americans resolve to drive clean and well-tuned cars and drive sensibly it sure will help."

In the world of stocks, there are those who also are making resolutions — as long as the investor doesn't hold the brokers to all of them.

Eldon Grimm, senior vice president of Walston & Co., a New York investment firm, resolves to "get a new bull market started in both stocks and bonds and to buy up some of the bargains hammered down so drastically."

Sidney Homer, a partner in Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, bond brokers, says a noninflationary way of bringing down the present high rates of bond yields should be resolved in 1970. "They are purely disastrous now for the long range of our economy," he says.

Happenings of Today in Washington

Today in Washington
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. disarmament negotiations with the Soviet Union will be monitored by seven members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., will head the new panel that also includes Sens. John Stennis, D-Miss.; Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va.; Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii; Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine; John G. Tower, R-Tex.; and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass.

Stennis, announcing creation of the subcommittee Monday, said it is vital that the group closely follow the progress of negotiations which will begin April 16 in Vienna. Preliminary talks were held in Helsinki, Finland.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Daniel James Jr. probably will be the only Negro general in the Air Force by the time his promotion passes through the Senate confirmation process.

President Nixon said Monday he is nominating James, 49, a native of Pensacola, Fla., to become an Air Force brigadier general. Lt. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., the only Negro general in the Air Force, plans to retire Feb. 1.

The only Negro of star rank in the Army is Brig. Gen. Frederick E. Davison. No Negro has risen to admiral in the Navy.

James, a command pilot in the air war against North Vietnam, flew 101 missions in Korea. He currently commands the 727th Flying Training Wing at Wheelus Air Force Base, Libya. His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with seven clusters.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federally required information on automobile safety performance will be available starting Thursday in dealers' showrooms, but it may disappoint the comparison shopper.

The Transportation Department's National Highway Safety Bureau says "considerable differences exist in the formats used and in the groupings of models, body styles and equipment which each manufacturer has chosen to provide."

Hence, detailed make-model comparisons, especially between products of different manufacturers, are difficult.

The information covers results of safety tests for stopping ability, acceleration in passing, and tire reserve load on 1970 models.

Makers also have added their own warning notes to the safety information.

Congress Will Get Skimpy Budget Jan. 27

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House expects to send a skimpy budget to Congress Jan. 27, although administration sources say they still expect government spending will top $200 billion for the first time.

Despite cuts in agency requests and new presidential appeals for further retrenchment, "The question now seems to be," said one informant, "how close to $200 billion we can hold it."

Another official reported Nixon's economic command was busy "trying out all sorts of combinations of budget cuts and proposed new taxes" to improve the budget outlook for fiscal 1971, starting next July 1.

A principal aim of the fiscal juggling was hinted by Nixon to reporters last Friday — to make up the $2.5 billion in revenues which, the President said, was lost when Congress wrote its own tax reform bill instead of adopting administration proposals.

One of the tax proposals under study, a Treasury official said, was the value-added tax. This form of manufacturer's excise tax was briefly considered but passed over by the Eisenhower administration. The idea is known to have intrigued Nixon, but always has met a cold reception in Congress.

While there are no reliable estimates on how much foreign investment has been withheld in recent years, there is general agreement the figure is high.

In Latin America's search for identity and control over its national economic and political destiny, the American business establishment presents a visible target.

The new surge of nationalism has produced some dramatic confrontations between government and business, such as the takeover of the U.S.-owned International Petroleum Corp. by Peru's military junta in October 1968.

Peru also has decreed that all banks must be 75 per cent owned by nationals within a year. Argentina has followed suit.

American businesses also have been plagued by terrorist

Evangel Is Beaten by State College

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Stan Lockhart scored 22 points and two other teammates hit in double figures to lead State College of Arkansas to a 95-80 basketball victory over Evangel College of Springfield, Mo., Monday night.

In the second game of a doubleheader, Lambuth College of Jackson, Tenn., nudged Hendrix 58-55.

The teams will change opponents in games tonight.

Ray Malcom had 20 points and Conny Johnson 21 for SCA. Mike Gammet of Evangel hit 21 points.

Hendrix overcame a 46-41 deficit and went ahead 53-52 against Lambuth with 2:59 left in the game, but Willie Peete hit a jumper and two free throws to ice it for Lambuth.

Peete and Rossey Williams each had 12 points for Lambuth. Danny Thomas had 14 and Dewayne Nash 13 for Hendrix.

Things Change Quick in Latin Nations

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. businessman, once assured a hospitable reception almost anywhere in Latin America, is now one of the most unloved individuals in the region.

He is accused of plundering the region's natural resources. He is charged with making deals with corrupt officials of past governments. And his influence in Washington has been depicted as so pervasive that the U.S. government would protect his interests even at the expense of friendly diplomatic relations.

As a result, the investment game in Latin America is one which many U.S. businessmen consider no longer worth playing.

American foreign investments jumped by $27 billion from 1960 to 1967 but nowhere was the percentage of increase lower than in Latin America.

Canada started the decade with American investments of $11.1 billion and by 1967 they had reached $18 billion. In Europe, the jump over the seven-year period was almost threefold — from $6.6 billion to $17.8 billion. There were $4.2 billion in U.S. investments in Asia two years ago, up from $2.2 billion in 1960.

In Latin America, meanwhile, the increase was less than 20 per cent — from $8.3 billion to $10.2 billion.

While there are no reliable estimates on how much foreign investment has been withheld in recent years, there is general agreement the figure is high.

In June, 13 supermarkets in Buenos Aires, belonging to the U.S.-controlled International Basic Economy Corp., were burned. Similar incidents have been on the rise recently in Brazil and Uruguay.

A number of countries have frozen American investors out of fields in which they once played a dominant role.

Brazil earlier this year refused to allow foreign oil firms to explore in competition with the state-owned company, Petobras.

There are also moves under way in Chile and Peru to nationalize the International Telephone and Telegraph operations.

CHIEF MEDIC will be Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld who was named U.S. Surgeon General by President Nixon.

Billionaire Optimistic Over Success

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot still was optimistic today as he departed on the final leg of his around-the-world race against time to get belated Christmas presents to U.S. servicemen held prisoner in North Vietnam.

His plane took off from Anchorage at 4:50 a.m. on an eight-hour flight over the North Pole to Denmark.

Bangkok, Thailand, Monday afternoon to repack an assortment of medical supplies, clothing and food before continuing to Copenhagen in Denmark, and hopefully then to Moscow in a chartered Boeing 707 jet.

Twelve hours later, the 25 tons of cargo worth about $400,000 was broken down into approximately 1,500 individual packages. The job was done by more than 1,000 Anchorage residents, who answered a call from the Red Cross.

The 39-year-old Dallas computer magnate was denied permission last week to fly the supersonic, Soviet and Pathet Lao officials.

But the Texan, who left Dallas Dec. 21, was told by representatives of Hanoi that if he turned over his cargo to Soviet postal authorities in Moscow by midnight Dec. 31, it might reach North Vietnam.

"They put the deadline on us thinking we would not make it," he said. "But we will."

In Copenhagen, Perot was to renew his efforts to have the Soviet government deliver the gifts to Hanoi. He still must obtain permission to fly to Moscow, aides said.

Before departing Anchorage, Perot expressed optimism about meeting the New Year's Eve deadline. "I'm meeting my end of the bargain," he declared. "I hope Hanoi meets theirs."

In June, 13 supermarkets in Buenos Aires, belonging to the U.S.-controlled International Basic Economy Corp., were burned. Similar incidents have been on the rise recently in Brazil and Uruguay.

In the match between the Dallas Aces and the Walsh teams, both South players reached four spades and had no trouble making the contract.

Bobby Goldman, who was South for the Aces, jumped to four spades to announce a good spade suit and minimum hand. On the system used by him and Billy Sisenberg, the two-club response, followed by the return to two spades, committed the partnership to game. Bobby's jump to four spades gave a complete picture of the hand: A careless player might take a quick look at dummy and play out his ace and king of spades. Should the queen drop, he would be able to try for a couple of overtricks but the actual trump, heart and club situation would probably lead to our careless friend winding up one trick short of his contract.

We say probably, because a clairvoyant declarer could recover from this bad start. Careless players don't get into a match to determine the North American International Team and Bobby didn't fall into this trap.

He ruffed the second diamond and led out one high trump. Then he played a heart to dummy's ace and a heart back to his jack. West was in with the queen and could find no better lead than a club. Bobby won in dummy and was now ready to play his second high trump. The king of hearts and a ruff of the fourth heart came next and eventually West made his queen of trumps.

Of course, the hand was a standoff. Dick Walsh made the same four spades in the other room.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Greeks originated the concept of political democracy during the 5th century B.C. The World Almanac recalls that the Athenian assembly had a practice of voting annually to decide whether an official should be ostracized. A vote of ostracism was cast when an official's personal ambition or power was considered adverse enough to be injurious to the state. Ostracism's penalty was banishment from Athens for a period of up to 10 years.

Unreported Accident

Coming to a halt at a stop light, you bump bumpers with the car ahead. A quick look by both parties indicates that no harm was done, so you dismiss the matter from your mind.

Months later, you are served with a summons in a lawsuit. It seems the other driver is claiming that he was injured by the collision after all. This question arises: Are you left stranded, without the protection of your liability insurance, because you failed to give prompt notice of the accident to the insurance company?

Generally speaking, you are required to give notice within a "reasonable time" after you have an accident. Still, the law does grant you some leeway if there is a good excuse for delay.

Obviously, you have a good excuse if you simply were not aware that an accident happened at all. Likewise, in the case above, the court decided the motorist's excuse was good enough. As one judge put it:

"Not every trivial accident should be reported. An accident that an ordinarily prudent person would consider as inconsequential, not the basis of any claim, the insured was not bound to report."

Nevertheless, if there is reason to fear a claim (even an unfair claim), then it is indeed up to you to tell your insurance company about it.

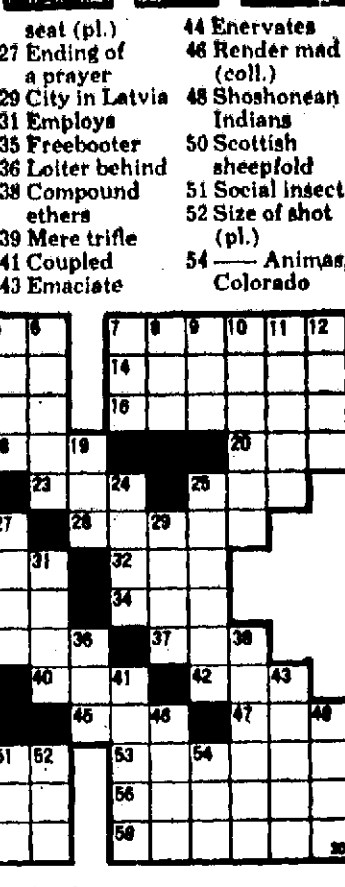

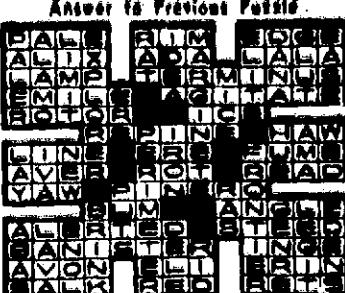

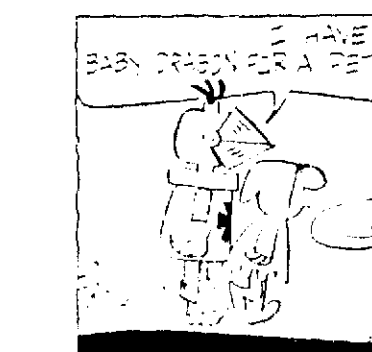

For example, a motorist who knocked down a pedestrian was held not justified in failing to report the accident, since he knew the victim had been taken to a hospital. His excuse, that a policeman had told him it was "nothing serious," was held not good enough.

And another motorist was held at fault for not notifying his insurance company that the other party, in a seemingly harmless collision, had telephoned to say his knee was "starting to feel stiff."

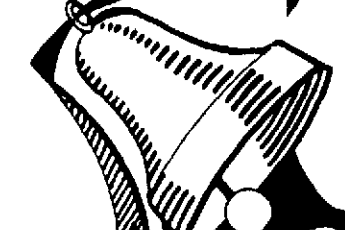

In short, when in doubt report the accident. It isn't a difficult thing to do. And it might save you some day from having to "face the music" on your own.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Many Treatments Combat Meniere's Syndrome

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What are the cause and symptoms of Meniere's syndrome? Is there any cure?

A—This condition is caused by a distention of the three semicircular canals in the inner ear. The underlying cause may be an allergy, a hormonal imbalance, meningitis or intoxication with alcohol, quinine, streptomycin or salicylates, but in 95 per cent of cases no cause can be found. The chief symptoms are dizziness, ringing in the ears and partial deafness. In severe cases there may also be nausea.

A salt-poor diet, the anti-histamines used to treat motion sickness and diuretics, especially spironolactone and thiazides are usually helpful. When the disease is severe and persistent a variety of treatments has been used with some success: (1) Surgical introduction of small crystals of salt in the middle ear to draw moisture out of the inner ear, (2) ultrasound to destroy the mastoid cells behind the ear, (3) removal of part of the bone surrounding the semicircular canals so that their distention no longer meets an unyielding wall, and (4) freezing part of one semicircular canal with the Cooper cryoprobe.

Q—Would it be safe for a person with Meniere's disease to fly?

A—Persons with acute ear infections and/or Meniere's disease are usually too sick to travel on any kind of vehicle. Although flying will not affect the disease process, it is likely to aggravate the symptoms.

Q—Is it against the law to sell a mattress that has been used? If it is clean and has a mattress pad, can it carry disease? After all, we do sleep on used mattresses in hotels and hospitals.

A—Although local laws vary, in most communities it is against the law to sell a mattress that contains any previously used filler material unless the material has been subjected to a thorough cleaning and renovation. Since the virtual disappearance of typhoid in this country, the danger of transmitting disease through the use of a contaminated mattress is nil.

Q—Are there any bad side

Gulfport, Biloxi Still Live With Hurricane Wreck

When Hurricane Camille came ashore at Gulfport and Biloxi, Miss., last Aug. 18 the Associated Press reported it was the worst ever to strike the North American continent—a 150-mile-an-hour wind, more than 200 dead, over 2,000 injured, and millions of dollars in property damage.

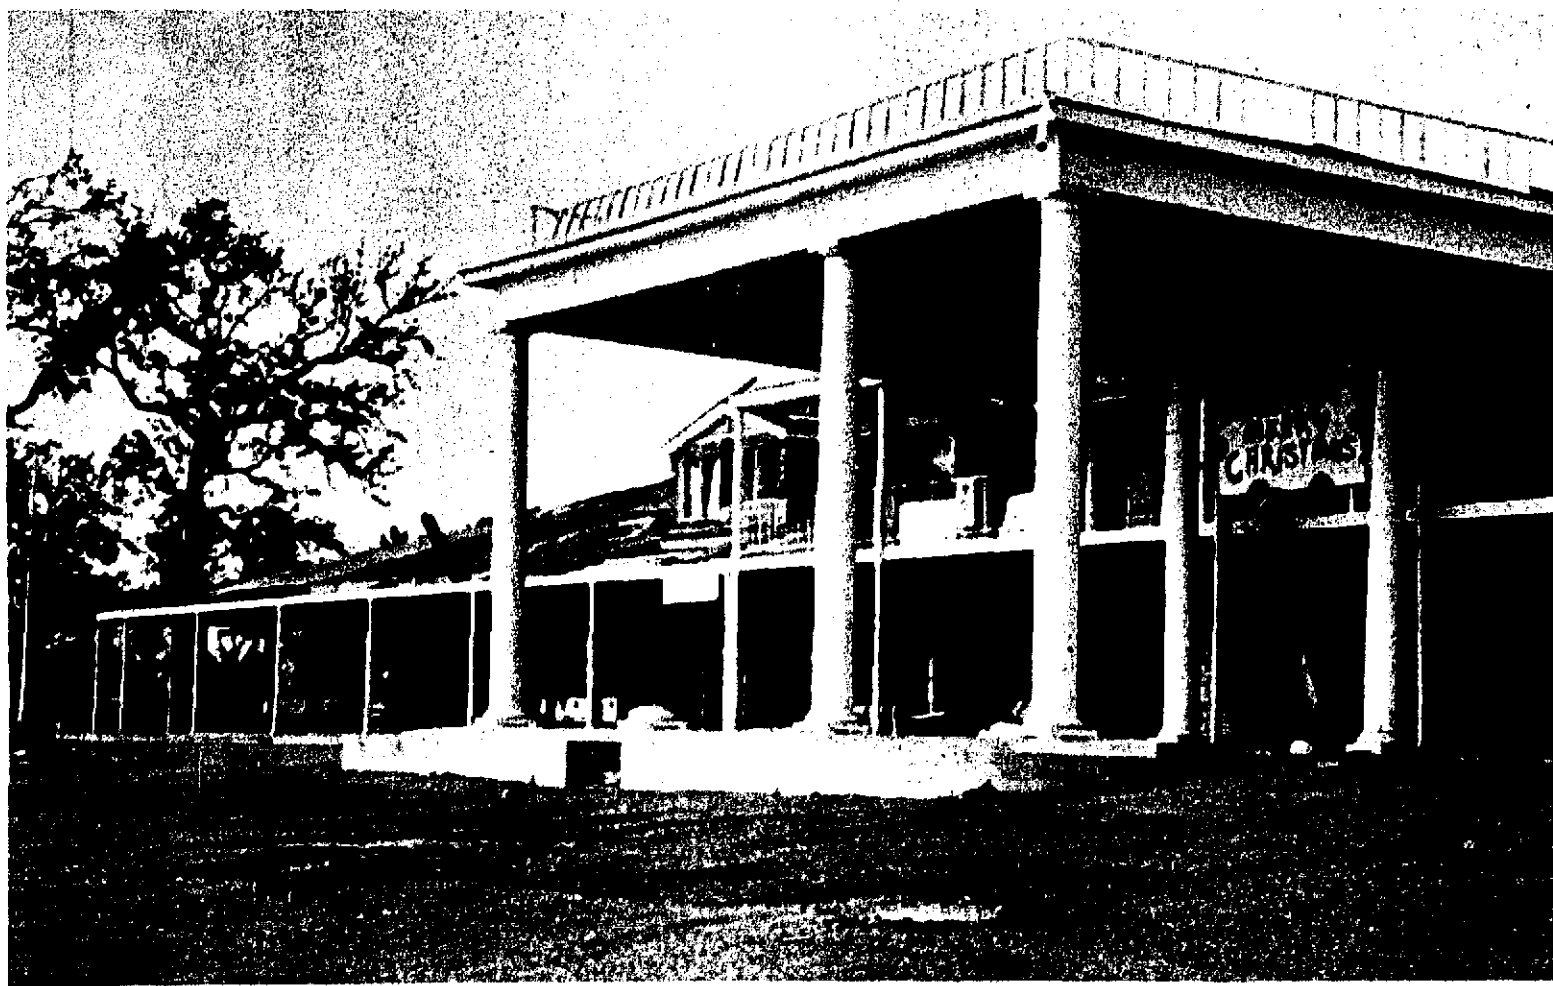

Southwest Arkansas, like the rest of this and other states, came to the aid of stricken Mississippi with gifts of money, clothes, and supplies. Four months later you wonder how the Gulf Coast is faring in its struggle to rebuild after the disaster.

Not so well, as The Star's editor, Alex. H. Washburn, found when visiting it on his return from Christmas dinner in Florida. He made these pictures in Biloxi and Gulfport Saturday, Dec. 27. Four months after the hurricane the twin cities still look like a devastated battleground—labor and materials are being used to rebuild business places first, residential repairs have to wait, and much of the population is living in mobile homes, of which thousands were imported to cope with the disaster.

Pictured above is the Episcopal church in Biloxi, only the bell tower remaining, the rubble of brick around its base having once been a stalwart churchhouse. A sign at the foot of the tower bravely proclaims "Services as usual," presumably held in the community house in the background.

The other pictures showing ruined residences, mostly in Biloxi, need no captions.

A million-dollar Ramada Inn seems to be intact—but it isn't; the 150-mile winds of Camille gutted it, taking furniture, wiring and fixtures out the back side. If you look closely at the left wing you can see through it to daylight on the back side—a brick ghost-house, empty and forlorn.

Your editor leaving Gulfport Saturday pulled into a ruined Esso station to refuel, noted that nothing was left but the pumps and tanks and a temporary shack to house records, and asked the operator, "Mac, in a disaster like this what on earth do you do about rest-rooms?"

He grinned and pointed to a pair of tall refrigerator-like plastic structures, pictured above. "Service even in a hurricane," said he. The "Dear Johns." What I was looking at was a pair of chemical out-houses.

Hurricane Pictures Insurance Cost Up Notes on the Road

Our pictures of the Camille hurricane damage in Biloxi and Gulfport, Miss., as it appears four months later (pictures were made Saturday, Dec. 27) are published in today's edition.

No series of still-camera shots could possibly tell you the magnitude of destruction from North America's worst hurricane. It would take a travelling motion picture or television camera moving along the 10- or 15-mile coastline to do the job.

The fact that the devastated area looks today just about the way it did after the Aug. 18 storm gives you the true measure of the disaster. With limited labor and materials Mississippians are rebuilding business houses first, and repair or replacement of residences will have to wait. The Gulf Coast will be years making the rehabilitation job complete. Meanwhile much of the Gulfport-Biloxi population is living in mobile homes, thousands of which were rushed into the disaster region immediately after the storm.

Local citizens who helped Gulfport-Biloxi with gifts of money, clothing and supplies in August and September should appreciate this eye-witness report that they couldn't have given to a better cause. Mississippians are grateful—for the entire nation responded to the call for help in their great hour of want.

The car radio gave me a financial aftermath on Camille while I was driving to Florida. Insurance rates are being raised drastically in Mississippi—50 per cent on the Gulf Coast, 30 per cent on the second tier of counties inland, and 20 per cent on the balance of the state. It's expensive to live on any sea coast, for the basic principle of all insurance is that those living in a high-risk area must pay a premium penalty. Nevertheless, disaster would be unbearably bleak without insurance protection.

The insurance cost of Camille is staggering. Insurers take the immediate loss—but over the years, policy-holders have to pay back. That's how insurance works ever since early Carthaginians and Egyptians began underwriting their grain ships against loss in Mediterranean storms.

I have been over so many roads in most of the United States that I seldom look at a map—but I do have a complaint about the directions posted at some of the new and complicated interchanges in the larger cities, and find that service stations are beset by other tourists who, like myself, have momentarily lost their route number.

Specifically in downtown Tallahassee, Fla., there is a gap in the trail marking where you switch from U.S. 27 North to U.S. 90 West, heading for Mobile, Ala.

Likewise, you run into trouble running west through Baton Rouge, La. You come off U.S. 190 from the Gulf Coast and can't find the connection for U.S. 71 to Alexandria.

And going east into Jackson, Miss., on U.S. 80 you miss U.S. 49-98 which is your route to Mobile and Florida.

The common factor missing at these interchanges is the control name of some big city. At Tallahassee and Jackson the name "Mobile" would have been helpful; and at Baton Rouge I would have liked to have seen either "Alexandria" or "Shreveport."

Woman Killed in Accident

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Dorothy Louise Keen, 46, of Route 6, Pine Bluff was killed Monday night in a two-vehicle collision west of Pine Bluff at the junction of U.S. 270 and Arkansas 104.

Injured in the accident were Joyce Keen, 24, of Route 2, Sheridan; Geraldine Keen, 15, of Route 6, Pine Bluff; and Floyd Ware, 59, of Little Rock. State Police said a car driven by Joyce Keen, traveling on Arkansas 104, ran into the side of a two-ton truck driven by Ware on U.S. 270.

Warrants Are Issued for ABC Agents

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Warrants were served on two state Alcoholic Beverage Control Department agents Monday afternoon charging them with assault with intent to kill.

The two agents, Isaiah Jones and Joe E. Hill, were to appear today in Little Rock Municipal Court.

The warrants were obtained by Lewis Anderson, 22, of Little Rock. They stem from a Dec. 22 incident in which Anderson's car and another auto were pursued by the agents.

Anderson said in a complaint filed with Little Rock police a day after the incident that Jones and Hill had stopped his car, told him they were taking him to jail because his car lights weren't on and threatened to "whip my head" when he demanded identification.

Anderson alleged that the agents shot at him as he pulled away and again as they chased him in their car.

Jones had reported to ABC Director Joe Gaspard that after the agents had stopped Anderson, a second car, driven by Chester Perry, 16, of Little Rock drove up and that Perry pulled a gun on them.

Hill and Jones later swore out a warrant for Perry, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon.

Gaspard has said the agents acted properly in the case.

New Law Relaxing U.S. Trade With Communist Nations Not Popular

By ENDRE MARTON Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — A new law liberalizing U.S. exports to Communist countries has been received with somewhat less than enthusiasm by diplomats of the affected nations.

What those countries really are interested in is liberalizing of imports to the United States or, in other words, getting most-favored-nations—MFN—tariff treatment for their products.

This was made clear from a check with diplomats representing Communist nations in Washington. The exceptions are Poland and Yugoslavia, two nations which already enjoy the low tariff of MFN.

None of the diplomats questioned would say his country was not interested in the Dec. 23 congressional action which in effect permits American exporters to compete with the exporters of Western Europe and of Japan for the Communist market in non-strategic goods. But, the diplomats argued, to buy in the United States—and to pay for the purchase—would require

By JIM ADAMS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of major weapons systems is running nearly 50 per cent ahead of original estimates and no central agency is keeping track of all arms development information, a congressional study team has been told.

The cost overrun investigation by a joint House-Senate subcommittee chaired by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., focused today on shipbuilding and the Navy's estimate that the bill could be up to $1.2 billion higher than originally figured.

Gordon Rule, director of Navy procurement control, was called back before the subcommittee on economy to spell out the contractor claims that have been listed as a major part of the additional cost.

Navy officials, who estimate an $800 million to $850 million overrun plus an unspecified potential problem that could add another $350 million, say a major problem comes from claims being filed by shipbuilders against the government for changes ordered by the Navy on 125 ships during the past 13 years.

Asst. Comptroller Gen. Robert P. Kellerman told the subcommittee Monday that the estimated cost of 38 major weapons systems is $62.9 billion, although initial estimates placed the cost at $42 billion.

He added: "As far as we know, information is not available centrally as to the total number of systems being acquired cost."

Proxmire said an increase in

French Boats Cause Israel Concern

By MARCUS ELIASON Associated Press Writer

HAIFA, Israel (AP) — A heavy overcast shrouded the eastern Mediterranean today as the five mystery gunboats from France advanced through wind-whipped seas toward Israel's chief port.

Israeli maritime experts said the boats were still at least a full day out of Haifa. One expert said they were probably delayed by rough weather and slower escorts from the Israeli Navy.

The low clouds and high winds were expected to hamper any attempt by Egyptian planes to intercept the boats. They slipped out of Cherbourg about 3 a.m. Christmas Day in defiance of the French embargo on arms for Israel.

Hundreds gathered on Mt. Carmel abandoned their lookout as word flashed through the city that the boats now were expected Wednesday. It was also thought unlikely they would enter port in daylight.

An Italian trawler reported sighting the ships early Monday east of Sicily escorted by "numerous other Israeli ships." Greek police on the island of Crete said the convoy passed south of the island shortly after midnight.

The boats have a speed of up to 40 knots and are 147 feet long—about half the length of an American football field.

There was no evidence of any effort to intercept the gunboats, although Arab newspapers called on the French Navy to do so. An Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo declined to comment on reports abroad that Egyptian planes and ships were alerted to intercept the boats.

A U.S. spokesman in Washington denied an Italian Communist report that the U.S. 6th Fleet and perhaps units from other of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries were providing cover for the gunboats.

School Hearing Set at Hardin

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley has set Jan. 7 for the start of a trial challenging the proposed secession of the Hardin community from the Dollarway School District.

Hardin sends about 300 pupils, all of them white, to desegregated Dollarway schools. The plaintiffs allege in the suit that secession would permit Hardin patrons to escape court-ordered desegregation of the Dollarway District.

The suit was filed in September by four Dollarway residents shortly before the district's patrons voted to permit the Hardin area to secede.

Worst Storm of Winter Hits State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The worst storm so far this winter continued pounding away at Arkansas today with rain, snow and cold temperatures.

Travelers warnings were issued this morning for the northern half of Arkansas as ice began to develop on bridges and overpasses.

State Police urged motorists to remain alert for icing conditions. Police said Arkansas 68 between Siloam Springs and Springdale was closed due to ice and a 12 to 15 truck pileup occurred about 2 a.m. today. No fatalities were reported.

Interstate 55 in the Blytheville-Osceola area was reported icing over.

State Police said this morning that any highway north of a line from Fort Smith to Little Rock to West Memphis should be considered extremely hazardous, and all others hazardous.

One person has been killed in a traffic accident attributed to the weather. State Police said William Wallace, 26, of Springdale was injured fatally Monday when his car skidded on snow on U.S. 71 and slammed into a parked truck at Fayetteville.

Light snow was falling this morning at Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Harrison and Clarksville. Three inches of snow as reported on the ground today at Harrison, one inch at Fayetteville and four inches at Jasper. Six to eight inches of snow was reported by Benton County Monday.

Hard sleet was reported at Calico Rock this morning. Heavy glazing was in progress at Perry and ice was forming on trees and power lines at Kelser and Black Rock.

Schools at Huntsville were dismissed today for the rest of the week because of icy road conditions. Classes were to have resumed Monday after the Christmas holidays, but they also were canceled.

The continuous rains in central and southern areas of the state caused smaller streams to climb over their banks but no major damage was reported.

Little Rock in a 40-hour period ending Monday night had received 4.43 inches of rain and light rain continued in the city today. Fourche and Rock creeks were out of their banks in southwest Little Rock.

Rain began falling in Arkansas last Saturday and some areas have recorded nearly five inches.

The freezing rain and snow in Northwest Arkansas this morning was expected to spread eastward today, but the heavier amounts of snow was expected to be confined to northern areas of the state.

Rock Festival Leaves One Dead and 47 Arrests

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — One death, 47 arrests, a power failure, a canceled act and a financial loss in the six-figure class: That was the final tally for the Miami-Hollywood rock festival which ended at midnight Monday.

Allan Wayne Ollis, 20, of Sumter, S.C., died of a fractured skull when he plunged from a darkened spotlight tower early Monday.

Broward County Sheriff Ed Stack said his men arrested 47 persons during the three-day concert. Most of those jailed were charged with possession or sale of an illegal drug.

A three-hour power failure Monday forced an emergency call for a generating diesel to supply juice for the amplified guitars and other instruments.

Trumpet player High Masacala was scheduled to appear Sunday night but never showed up. Norman Johnson, festival promoter and owner of the Miami-Hollywood speedway, declined to disclose the amount of his loss, but before the festival opened Johnson said he would have an expense budget of approximately $700,000.

The highest official attendance record was 15,000 persons — at $20 a ticket.

Tax Reform Bright for Public But Paycheck May Get Some Smaller

By JOHN M. PEARCE Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Tax Reform Act promises a brighter tomorrow for John Q. Taxpayer, but in fact, he may — and in many cases will — find a smaller paycheck next week. Quirks in Internal Revenue Service figuring of withholding tables and the resumption of Social Security taxes for everyone earning over $7800 a year means some withholding amounts will go up instead of down when the new law takes effect New Years Day.

The largest change is the Social Security levy. The tax is collected on the first $7800 of a year's income. That point passed in October for people earning $10,000 and in the summer for people with $15,000 yearly salaries.

In many cases, the tax more than outweighs the fact that the new bill cuts the income tax surcharge to 5 per cent from 10 per cent.

Greeting for Agnew Is Cordial

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS Associated Press Writer

MANILA (AP) — Warm applause greeted Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today as he attended the inaugural of Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Tight security accompanied Agnew's arrival for the outdoor ceremony, but as he left after the two-hour inaugural a friendly crowd of Filipinos surged around him for a closer look.

Both when he was introduced upon arrival and later when President Marcos saluted him at the start of his inaugural address, the crowd of government officials and Marcos supporters applauded the U.S. vice president.

Afterward he went by motorcade to a hotel conference with Premier Chung Il-kwon of South Korea, beside whom he sat during the inaugural ceremonies.

Although clouds veiled the tropical sun, the day was hot and muggy. Most of the Philippine men and some members of Agnew's party wore the barong, the loose-fitting long white shirt that is the national dress. But Agnew followed diplomatic custom and wore a formal outfit with dark morning coat. Despite the heat, he left the inaugural site looking as cool and as well groomed as usual.

The friendly greeting for Agnew today was in considerable contrast to the small but noisy demonstration that greeted him last night as he arrived at the U.S. Embassy for a reception. As a crowd of about 100 young

Consolidation Motion Hearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley will hear Jan. 8 a Justice Department motion to consolidate the schools of the Crawfordville School District.

There are 168 white pupils and 79 Negro pupils attending the predominantly white Crawfordville school and 975 Negroes attending the McNeil school.

The Justice Department seeks to consolidate the two schools with the second semester. But the School Board says such a consolidation at that time would be disruptive to the school system.

Rules Rohan Mentally Ill

JERUSALEM (AP) — A Jerusalem court ruled today that Denis Michael Rohan was mentally ill when he set fire to the Al Aqsa Mosque and ordered him confined to a hospital for treatment.

The act reduces the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27 1/2 per cent to 22 per cent.

High-bracket taxpayers, generally those receiving $100,000 or more a year, will be hit by several provisions. The principal one is a new minimum tax to be paid on large amounts of income that enjoy special preferences under the revenue code.

In addition, a number of preferences are trimmed directly, including hobby farming and some kinds of large charitable gifts of value-appreciated property.

High-bracket recipients of capital gains will pay more tax — the 25 per cent maximum would no longer be available on gains above $50,000. The maximum tax rate on corporate gains will go from 25 to 30 per cent.

Nixon Signs Biggest Tax Revision Bill

By ROBERT K. WALKER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed today the biggest tax revision bill in a generation, clamping down on many loopholes but also passing out more tax reductions than he had recommended.

But he warned that he will "take the action I consider necessary to present a balanced budget for the next fiscal year." Still awaiting Nixon's signature was a landmark bill on coal mine safety.

Nixon's tax statement indicated the budget will be tight on expenditures, but was silent as to whether he will also recommend tax increases to make up for the revenue losses occasioned by the bill.

The bill contains several provisions benefitting taxpayers with incomes under $100,000, especially those at the low end of the income scale. It also includes an across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits.

In a written statement, Nixon said: "Congress has passed an unbalanced bill that is both good and bad. The tax reforms, on the whole, are good; the effect on the budget and on the cost of living is bad."

Nixon said the bill favors spending at the expense of saving and "this will restrict the flow of savings to help build housing, to provide credit for small business firms and farmers, and to finance needed state and local government projects. It will make our fight against a rising cost of living more difficult."

He said, "I sign it because I believe that, on balance, it is a necessary beginning in the process of making our tax system fair to the taxpayer."

Asst. Secretary of the Treasury Edwin S. Cohen said that the bill would produce a net increase in revenues for the next two years but then drop into deficit.

Thereafter, he said, the reductions will begin to offset the gains and ultimately will level off at about $2.5 billion. But he said that if the growth in the economy is taken into account the losses in future years could be as much as $7.5 billion.

When the new tax law is fully effective, in 1973, more than nine million persons will be relieved of all tax by a low income allowance. A typical family of four in the $7,500 bracket would save about $170.

The higher Social Security payments are effective Jan. 1, but the raise, with retroactive payments, will first be felt in April.

The average retired couple will receive $196 a month, compared with the present $170.

In addition to the low income allowance and expansion of the standard deduction, individuals will receive tax relief through a gradual increase in the personal exemption from $600 to $750. Single taxpayers will get a break, moving their rates closer to those paid by married couples who split income.
